

ILLUSTRATION II

5.27.2016

WITH STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Illustration II (IL204, 3 credits)

Course Description:

This advanced course will focus on conceptual, practical, and technical aspects of illustration, with an emphasis on developing projects from rough ideas through to finished art. Improving drawing skills will continue as students experiment with a variety of materials while beginning to form an individual vision and style. In addition, the student will develop a cohesive portfolio and learn about the basics of operation as a freelance artist.

Prerequisite: Illustration I

Students will:

1. Interpret a narrative visually in multi-panel assignments. (PC 1)
2. Develop a working familiarity with a variety of illustrative techniques and to apply them to specific illustrative projects. (PC 2)
3. Illustrate in a cohesive and identifiable style. (PC 3)
4. Produce portfolio suitable for seeking opportunities in their chosen field. (PC 1, 2, 3, 4, 5)

Required Texts: There are no required texts for this class.

Supplementary Readings: (Can be found in the library)

Supplies: Total estimated cost $250

- The Illustration majors work in media of their choice, and use the materials and supplies, which they already have for the Media and Methods classes, and what is included in the Art Kit.
- Most of the final assignments are in digital print format, on a good quality inkjet paper.

Estimated cost for digital printing, based on $3 per sqf: $150

Supplementary Supplies:

- Materials, accessories and supplies used in Media and Methods, and Art Kit.